COLES EXPRESS AND RAC CUT FUEL COSTS FOR WA MOTORISTS
Members receive 4c per litre discount for showing RAC card

Coles Express and West Australian member organisation RAC have teamed up to offer a ground-breaking fuel discount to the club's 800,000-plus members throughout WA.

RAC Executive General Manager Patrick Walker said from 6 August, RAC members can save 4c per litre on fuel purchases at more than 70 Coles Express outlets in the state, just by showing their membership card.

"RAC members will save money on the posted fuel price at all Coles Express fuel outlets and this will be available every day, and everywhere across WA," Mr Walker said.

"The ability to now simply show your membership card and save on fuel prices is another way that RAC is giving back to its members."

Coles Express Director Richard Pearson said the offer was a first for Coles Express and he expected it to be very popular with WA drivers.

"This is the first time we have teamed up with a motoring organisation to offer better value to drivers, and we think it will be a winner with more than 800,000 RAC members across WA," he said.

"In a state like WA, our customers are often driving long distances, so we know that a 4c per litre discount can quickly add up to significant savings."

The 4c per litre discount offer is available for RAC members on all purchases of unleaded, diesel or LPG fuel.
